Dear Colleagues, Students, and Alumni,

After ten years of rewarding service as Chair of the Betty Foy Sanders Department of Art (BFSDoArt), I have announced my intention to return to the faculty at the end of this academic year. A national search for my replacement will be conducted.

With endorsement of the BFSDoArt faculty, CLASS Dean Curtis Ricker has appointed Professor Hans Mortensen to serve as Interim Chair of the department. I am extremely pleased that Hans has accepted this appointment, as I am confident that he will carry out our department's mission with integrity, reason, utmost dedication to student achievement, and seamless advancement of the many Betty Foy Sanders Department of Art programs.

My decision to return to faculty is based upon several reasons. Foremost is the fact that I genuinely miss working with students in our studio classrooms, where my strengths as a professor are best employed, and my greatest joy as an academician prevails. Secondly, I received a significant gift as I recently rounded the milestone age of fifty—a professional studio building of my own to pursue my creative research that has been suspended for a decade. Finally, I hold the professional belief that a good leader knows when their accomplishments have attained a level where they can only evolve further by the fresh vision of another guide.

During my tenure as Chair of the Betty Foy Sanders Department of Art, my ambitions were embraced with considerable support from the administration, students, alumni, and benefactors. However, I would be remiss if I did not specifically call-out the tireless efforts of the faculty and staff that truly made the significant progress of the past decade possible, and established the department as one of the finest art and design programs in the region.

Highlights of our achievements from the past decade include our 2003 relocation from the third and fourth floors of the Foy Building into multiple state-of-the-art facilities, including the Center for Art & Theatre; the transfer of the Graphic Communications Management degree program from the College of Science and Technology to the BFSDoArt to establish a unique major/minor opportunity for students; to the formation of a valued relationship with our patron Betty Foy Sanders; to the enrollment growth from 150 majors in 2003 to 450+ majors today; and a catalog of other accomplishments. We are a model of the breadth of vision and enormous effort that has made GSU such an exceptional place.

I leave my post with the knowledge that my successor will continue, in the years ahead, to shape an exciting future for the Betty Foy Sanders Department of Art and Georgia Southern University.

With regards,
Patricia W. Carter
